DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

It is my pleasure to share the Interim Placements report for 2025 with you all !

Experts have rightly predicted a huge shift and a big void toward operational excellence in the coming decade and anticipated the demand for operations professionals. Symbiosis Institute of Operations Management was conceptualized and today is uniquely positioned to take advantage of this shift in building capacities of future managers with Operations Management philosophy and competency. SIOM imparts value-based educational skills, that chisels students into outstanding business techno-professionals.

SIOM is India's only Institute dedicated to Operations Management, constituted with a vision of Empowering and Leading Operations Excellence. The carefully laid out multi-layered mentorship program that helps us to groom students for diverse roles, our position as a one-stop solution for Industry and Academia for anything related to Operations and the strategic industry interface designed to weave Industry inputs at every phase of our academic journey has resulted in surmounting credibility by Recruiters

The profiles are noticeably different and majorly aligned with Operations and supply chain functions and leadership roles like Financial consultants, Process excellence Analysts, Procurement specialists, Demand Planning and forecasting, Network Optimization, and so on. Major scoop is taken by the consultancy firms, followed by Manufacturing, Services, Agri, Retail, and Logistics Industry.

CORPORATE RELATIONS HEAD'S MESSAGE

Distinguished for its unwavering commitment to "Operations Excellence," Symbiosis Institute of Operations Management (SIOM) has consistently outperformed in placements, setting new benchmarks in roles offered. With its specialized operations management program, SIOM stands at the forefront of shaping industry-ready professionals, empowering them to excel in the evolving business landscape.

In today's era, Supply Chain and Operations Management are no longer cost centers but pivotal pillars of organizational growth. Acknowledging this transformation, SIOM's curriculum integrates data-driven decision-making, sustainability, and digital transformation. These strategic elements enable our students to address real-world challenges and significantly contribute to advancements across diverse sectors.

The current batch has achieved remarkable milestones, securing Pre-Placement Offers (PPOs) from reputed organizations, excelling in case competitions, and leveraging a robust alumni network. Our alumni, with their deep industry expertise, actively mentor students through structured mentorship programs, providing invaluable insights for career success. Comprehensive initiatives such as workshops, certifications, and hands-on experience with project-based learning and live projects have further enhanced employability, aligning students seamlessly with industry expectations.

SIOM's alignment with the SDGs has played a key role in driving career performance and placements. By fostering partnerships with various organizations emphasizing skill development, sustainability, inclusivity, and cutting-edge technologies, SIOM ensures students secure prominent supply chain roles such as Supply Chain Manager, Senior Consultant, and Senior Executive - Category Specialist, while leading advancements in supply chain innovations.
